

First name:	Surname:	What motivated you to put yourself forward for election to the Branch committee?	What qualities, skills and experience do you think you'll bring to the Branch committee?
Lucy	Allen	The Branch committee is a great opportunity to bring together other project management professionals through engaging content and networking opportunities.	6 years of experience organising both in person and online events. Understanding of project management apprenticeships and Higher Education sector. Enthusiasm to create opportunities to build a project management community in the East of England post covid.
Daniel	Bradley	To continue supporting the branch as we return to face to face events and build on the work the committee has started.	Local industry knowledge (Lowestoft, Norwich and Great Yarmouth). Three years volunteering experience with the committee.
Gregory	Brennan	I have been a member of the committee for four or five years now and am currently the secretary. I wish to continue to serve APM, furthering its aims and the offerings that can be made to local members.	Firstly, I have experience of sitting on the branch committee and acting as the secretary. With regards to my application to take on the role of Chair, I believe that I have the necessary experience and qualities for the position. I have chaired/overseen other voluntary groups and endeavours and therefore have an appreciation for the requirements of the role. In previous years, the East of England Branch has struggled to gain traction with the local membership, partly on account of the geographical spread and more recently exacerbated by the pandemic. I feel that a clear strategy is required to deliver value for APM members in the area and believe that this is something that I can define and implement with the assistance of the committee.
Kevin	Brown	I am keen to continue to support and progress the objectives of APM. I am passionate about supporting the development of project management as a profession and that we continue to drive competency and recognition of the profession. I see the work of the local branches as being key to promoting this across the regions as well as bringing professionals together to learn, develop and share.	I have over 20 years of experience working in the project management profession, and I am currently a Portfolio Manager working in Cambridge. My skills include planning, organising and supporting change. I have been a member of the EoE committee for a few years and the Chair for the past 12 months. I hope to be able to use these skills and that of other committee members to continue to move the region forward.
